

JFK Decides to Sell Wheat to Russia

By HARRY KELLY

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy has given the green light for the private sale of millions of bushels of American wheat to the Soviet Union and other Communist bloc countries.

He made it clear that the grain was for use only in the Soviet Union and Eastern Europe—not in Cuba.

His decision, which in so many words he said was just good business for the United States, drew both sparks and cheers.

The reaction ranged from Democratic Sen. Strom Thurmond's denunciation that it amounted to "arming our enemy," to Vermont Republican Sen. George Aiken's view that "the deal should prove beneficial to both the United States and the people of the purchasing nations."

In announcing his decision at his press conference Wednesday night after weighing both the political and economic problems involved, the President noted that more such transactions may be in the works.

The Soviet bloc countries, he said, "may also wish to purchase from us surplus feed grains and other agricultural commodities," and he added: "After consultation with the National Security Council, and informing the appropriate leaders of the Congress, I have concluded that such sales by private dealers for American dollars or gold, either cash on delivery or normal commercial terms, should not be prohibited by the government."

Kennedy did not specify how many bushels and how many dollars would be involved in wheat sale.

Kennedy did cite a figure as an example to show how the United States would benefit.

President, Gromyko Hold Talk

By LEWIS GULICK

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy receives Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko today on a new crest in U.S.-Soviet relations aided by presidential approval of American wheat sales to Russia.

It was only a year since Gromyko's last White House visit—Oct. 18, 1962—after which Kennedy bitterly accused the Kremlin envoy of a false statement denying the Soviet missile buildup in Cuba. The ensuing crisis verged on a nuclear showdown.

Kennedy, in a late afternoon appointment, and Secretary of State Dean Rusk, with morning lunch and evening dinner engagements with Gromyko, were expected to press again for withdrawal of those Russian troops who still remain in Cuba.

But a spreading thaw in the cold war has set in over the past 12 months following the Cuba missile withdrawal, highlighted by the hot-line communications link with Moscow, the limited nuclear test-ban treaty and Wednesday night's Kennedy go-ahead on selling U.S. wheat to Russia.

Today's prospective East-West agenda accordingly featured trade expansion possibilities, a wide range of possible secondary U.S.-Soviet accords, potential disarmament steps like outlawing weapons satellites in space and cooperation in sending a man to the moon.

"Really," Kennedy told his news conference, "what has happened since a year ago when I saw Mr. Gromyko will lessen the prospect of a military clash. But the differences on go..."

$1.20 Lb. Ceiling on French Steak

PARIS (AP)—The French government has put a ceiling of $1.20 a pound on ordinary beefsteak in a new move to fight inflation.

Finance Minister Valéry Giscard d'Estaing said the retail ceiling was aimed at butchers who failed to respond to the government's appeal to hold down prices.

Wholesale prices were held within government-approved limits, he said, but retail prices climbed to $1.23 a pound.

Middled Aged Men Usually Wed Plump Widows Because They Think They Cook Good

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Jumping to conclusions: Plump widows have the best chance of landing another husband—because their suitors, who usually are middle-aged, figure they are good cooks.

It's a good bet that a man who habitually wears only pin-striped suits is a con man, a junior diplomat, or sufferer from a superiority complex.

Many a woman surprised by the gift of a new fur coat from her husband would be even more surprised if she knew the real reason he bought it for her.

The most suspicious people in the world are authors, bankers and drug store cashiers.

If you need taxi money home, the easiest person to borrow it from is a waitress over 40.

God must have loved teen-agers, because he made so many of them.

Men who carry their wallets in their inside coat pocket rarely reach first for the restaurant tab, and usually have a few close friends.

If you see a man light up a cigar in his own home, you don't have to ask who's the real boss in the house.

Union to Continue UA Strike

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—Union employees at the University of Arkansas will continue their six-day-old strike against the school, though pickets have been ordered withdrawn, an official said Wednesday.

John Hale of Little Rock, an organizer of the striking American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, said the union would also attempt to overturn an injunction issued Tuesday against the picketing.

Hale did not say whether court action would be taken.

Hale, a defendant in the university suit that obtained the injunction, said the union was not represented at the Tuesday hearing that preceded issuance of the order by Chancellor Thomas F. Butt of Fayetteville.

He also charged that university complaints at the hearing were not true and that no demands had ever been presented to the school by the union, since there had never been a meeting for negotiations.

The university maintains there is no law authorizing it to enter into a contract with unions. The union says it is seeking higher pay and better job security.

There were 65 to 75 pickets on the campus until Wednesday.

Emmet Gets Loan For Housing

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Public Housing Administration announced approval Wednesday of loans to Emmet, Ark., and Morrilton, Ark. Emmet will get $2,000 for construction of 10 low-rent homes, four for elderly persons; Morrilton will get $14,000 for 70 homes, all for the elderly.

Creditors of Bankrupt Firm Meet

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP)—Creditors of Scott Valve Mfg. Co. and company officials meet Friday before Referee in Bankruptcy Arnold M. Adams in U.S. District Court to decide whether the firm can be saved from bankruptcy.

The company disclosed on Sept. 17 that it had lost $180,000 in the preceding 11 months. In its petition, filed in U.S. District Court, Scott outlined a plan for paying its debts. Scott said it had 293 unsecured creditors and owned them a total of $608,057.58.

Creditors are to question company officials Friday and decide whether to accept Scott's plan to pay its debts.

The plan outlined in the petition provided that all unsecured creditors whose claims are less than $100 be paid in full; unsecured creditors whose claims are more than $100 can accept $100 in cash or 20 per cent of the amount due. The latter would be paid in 20 equal monthly installments, beginning three months after the plan is approved.

The Blytheville Industrial Development Corp. is to indicate at the meeting whether it is willing to reduce the rent on the building the firm occupies.

The company said it would need a new lease on the building calling for a rent of $4,000 annually over the next 25 years. Present rent is $18,163.12 a year, but is to increase to $22,050.20 a year on March 1.

The plant was financed through a bond issue approved by Blytheville voters in 1961.

BROKEN BOW, Okla. (AP)—An Arkansas man died when his truck rolled down a 75-foot embankment and overturned Wednesday night west of Broken Bow.

The victim was Clifford Murphy, 25, of Nashville, Ark. The Highway Patrol said the driver shaft on Murphy's truck, a semi-trailer loaded with frozen chickens, snapped as he tried to change gears on a steep hill on Oklahoma State Highway 3 about five miles west.

Murphy set the brakes, and a passenger, Bill Young, 27, also of Nashville, got out to flag down traffic. The brakes did not hold, and the truck rolled backward off the road and down the embankment. Young was not hurt.

Teacher May Be Kidnap Victim

SEARCY, Ark. (AP)—Harding College pressed 500 students and teachers into a search today for Mrs. E. R. Stapleton, a Harding English teacher who may have been kidnapped Tuesday night.

Classes were dismissed this morning at the Church of Christ school in this north Arkansas town. Officials of the FBI, State Police, White County sheriff's office and Searcy police told the students to make a house-to-house canvass of the town and surrounding areas.

Classes were to resume at 1 p.m. Harding has an enrollment of 1,150.

Mrs. Stapleton disappeared from a washateria on the outskirts of Searcy.

Russell Simmons, director of public relations, said the college "recognizes the possibility of danger" and the students were cautioned about searching abandoned houses, barns and wooded areas.

They were sent in groups, and officers told them that only part of the group should investigate such places and the rest should stay at the car.

Sheriff Jack Price said burglars who broke into two tire stores the same night may have abducted Mrs. Stapleton.

Her station wagon was parked at a washateria between the two tire stores and her laundry was still in a dryer.

The burglaries were discovered during a search for Mrs. Stapleton, who left the home of a son, Glenn Stapleton, about 9 p.m. to go to the washateria, located on U.S. Highway 67 just outside the south city limits of Searcy, Price said.

Price said the only definite clue connecting the burglaries and Mrs. Stapleton's disappearance is the fact that they occurred in the same area.

Mrs. Stapleton, who has been on the Harding faculty since 1932, makes her home with a daughter, Mary Claire, 20, a senior at Harding, and a niece, Clarita Bartley of Rogers, a junior at the college.

Price said only a few dollars were taken in the burglaries.

Helicopters Recover 12 Bodies

By EDWIN Q. WHITE

SAIGON, Viet Nam. (AP)—The bodies of 12 Americans killed in crashes of two U.S. Marine helicopters Tuesday were recovered late today, military authorities reported. It was the heaviest loss of American lives in one operation since the United States started its military buildup in South Viet Nam in late 1961.

Aboard the two HH-34 helicopters were four Marine officers, five enlisted men, a Navy doctor and two Navy hospital corpsmen. The bodies were being taken to Da Nang, a coastal city where the Marine helicopter squadron is based.

A military spokesman said the cause of the two crashes is under investigation by a team flown into the area today. One unconfirmed report said the helicopters collided in the air.

The two helicopters were on a search mission for a Vietnamese air force plane that crashed in a dive-bombing attack earlier Tuesday, 50 miles southwest of Da Nang.

The Vietnamese plane carried an American officer and a Vietnamese officer. They are listed officially as missing.

The area has been heavily defended by the Communist Viet Cong, who turn withering ground fire on planes there.

NCAA Against Televising Hog, Texas Game

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The NCAA Television Committee denied the University of Arkansas permission today to televise the Arkansas-Texas football game in Little Rock Oct. 19.

NCAA Executive Secretary Walter Byers of Kansas City told The Associated Press in a telephone call that the committee denied the request on the basis of its "appreciable damage rule."

He said there were three other college football games in the television reception area on that night and they might suffer from the Arkansas-Texas telecast.

Byers said the decision was consistent with every decision the NCAA has ever made on such issues except the decision earlier this week to allow a telecast of the Texas-Oklahoma game in Dallas.

"An error was made in not spotting another game in the Dallas area," Byers said, "and the telecast of the game in Dallas was approved on the basis of information that there would be no appreciable damage to any other game. Subsequent information developed that there was a game at Sherman, Tex., but the contracts already were executed."

He said the NCAA would not allow an administrative error to set a precedent. "Two wrongs don't make a right," Byers said.

The Arkansas-Texas game in 41,000-seat War Memorial Stadium has been sold out for months.

The NCAA television committee took a telephone poll of its members this morning on the university's request to televise the game under the NCAA's "sellout rule" involving games to which no tickets are available.

The university yielded Wednesday to student demands for tickets to the game, and announced that 350 additional temporary seats would be provided in the stadium.

Dr. David Mullins, university president, said that a committee of students, faculty and staff members was being set up to study ticket allocation procedures and seating arrangements and to make recommendations as to how these matters shall be handled in the future.

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Tricity Construction Co. of Kansas City, Kan., has submitted an apparent low bid of $109,540 on the installation of 3,400-feet of 24-inch water line from the east bank of the North Fork River to the fish hatchery below Norfolk Dam near Mountain Home.

Thousands Killed as Landslide Fills Italian Reservoir

By WILLIAM MAIRANI
Associated Press Staff Writer

BELLUNO, Italy (AP)—A massive Alpine landslide plunged into a deep, four-mile long reservoir in the night and hurled a tidal wave across the Vaiont Dam upon sleeping villagers in the Piave River Valley. Hundreds perished in the boiling flood.

Three hundred bodies had been recovered by dawn and U.S. Army authorities who hurried to help said Italian sources estimated there were 3,000 dead.

Four towns with more than 6,000 residents virtually were wiped out and two hamlets on the edge of the reservoir disappeared in the catastrophe.

"The sight was just simply terrifying," said Dino Menardi, one of the first pilots to view the desolation. "I have never seen anything like it—not even in horror dreams."

Through it all the 873-foot-high concrete dam—the world's third highest—apparently stood intact. It is part of a hydroelectric complex.

Reconnaissance by a squadron of four U.S. helicopters led by Maj. Harvey C. Mayse of Wendell, Wash., refuted officials' initial reports that the wall of water had collapsed the dam.

"The landslide that plunged into the reservoir apparently caused a huge overflow," Mayse said. "From the air, the dam appeared to be in one piece."

The biggest and hardest hit of the towns was Longarone, with a population of 4,600.

Surviving officials there estimated their dead alone at 1,500 to 1,700. The community was virtually leveled into a barren, rock-strewn stretch of sand and mud. The vanished hamlets were St. Martino and Visspesse.

Vice Prefect Carlo Prestamburgo said Cadisago, Rivalta and Pirago, with a total population of 1,500 were wiped out.

Several other villages including Castellazzo, with 1,000 inhabitants, were flooded as waters raised the level of the Piave's upper reaches by 16 feet.

Dozens of bodies tumbled and turned in the flood toward the Ad-Continued on Page Three

Arkansas Girl Killed in Mexico

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Helen Noble, a Delta Airlines stewardess from Hot Springs, Ark., was among four persons killed Tuesday in the crash of a twin-engine Beechcraft Bonanza airplane against a mountainside 35 miles south of Mexico City.

The United States Embassy identified the others as Mr. and Mrs. Glen H. Gardner and Joseph C. Gandolfo Jr., all of New Orleans, La.

The embassy said the bodies would be returned to the U.S.

The embassy said the crash occurred shortly after the plane took off for Acapulco.

Thinks JFK Gives Public False Security

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Mrs. Ngo Dinh Nhu says that if she were President Kennedy, she would "inform the people" about the Communist danger "instead of being inclined to lull them into a false sense of security."

She made the statement in answering a question after her first speech of a 21-day tour of the United States.

The fiery sister-in-law of President Ngo Dinh Diem of South Viet Nam spoke to more than 1,000 persons at an Overseas Press Club luncheon Wednesday.

During a 1½-hour question period, she was asked what she would do if she were president of the United States to insure defeat of the Viet Cong Communist guerrillas in her country.

She replied: "I think that panic is very bad... but life can be good and pleasant without panic, if one knows that mentally, morally, one is prepared—that the whole people around us is prepared to meet the greatest danger of the times—Communism."

"So the first step would be then—to inform the people instead of being inclined to lull them into a false sense of security."

First Lady Visiting Rich Greek

By FRANCES LEWINE

LEVKAS ISLAND, Greece (AP)—Aristotle Onassis brought Mrs. John F. Kennedy on a stormy 40-hour voyage through the Ionian Sea for a look at his dream island today.

The Greek shipping magnate's yacht Christina, after being buffeted by winds, rain and rough seas, anchored this morning at Levkas, near the small island of Scyros which Onassis purchased six months ago.

Scyros is just 4.5 miles in circumference. Its rocky hillside rises slowly to a height of 320 feet, covered with lovely cypress, pine and olive trees.

The island is near the fishing village of Nidre, at the edge of Levkas. The fisherfolk were busy and paid little attention to the 303-foot yacht, which has pulled into the harbor nine times this year.

High winds, torrential rains and an electrical storm had swept the Ionian Sea all night.

This morning the sun broke through.

There had been no definite word of the luxury yacht, a former Canadian corvette, since it left Crete Tuesday afternoon for the 400-mile voyage to the island off Greece's western coast.

Mrs. Kennedy, who began her leisurely cruise aboard the Christina last Friday, has covered more than 1,200 miles.

Visiting Istanbul, the Greek island of Lesbos in the northern Aegean and several small islands before reaching Crete, the First Lady went through smooth seas and bright sunny weather which permitted her to swim in the blue waters of the Aegean.

Thinks Bobcats Will Win Over Crossett Here

By BILL SIMMONS
Associated Press Staff Writer

It is a crazy, mixed-up Big Ten Conference football race, but no more so than the coaches predicted before it all began.

Only Little Rock Central has escaped unblemished and unbeaten through the first five weeks of play, and the Bengals are No. 1 in the league.

It may be all over—this perfect record business—for Central after this weekend, though, because the Tigers tangle with Fort Smith in the Grizzlies' lair.

It is a match between Fort Smith's rugged line, Central's speedy backs, and hard-hitting, scrambling defenses.

The coaches said the Big Ten champion this year won't get through the season with a perfect record. So, we're thinking Central will lose—but not be out of the title chase.

FORT SMITH 14, Little Rock Central 7. Looking for one Tiger to breakaway and two punishing Grizzly scoring drives.

LITTLE ROCK HALL 17, Blytheville 7. The Warriors walked into a swinging door in Texarkana last week and are looking for somebody to hit.

PINE BLUFF 20, El Dorado 7. If the Wildcats pulled an upset, the race would be more confused than ever. But the Zebras are well aware of that, and they've got the 1962 title to protect.

TEXARKANA 20, Hot Springs 0. An easy pick, what with the Razorbacks coming on strong and the Trojans having many problems.

NORTH LITTLE ROCK 7, Jonesboro 0. It was beginning to look like the Wildcats were as unfortunate as ever, until last week. The Cats are big, too, and Jonesboro isn't.

Now, the Class AA games: Fayetteville 14, Springdale 6. A 4-0 record against 3-1-1, and a fine game.

Subiaco 7, Harrison 0. A spooky one for the Gobblins.

Rogers 14, Salinasaw, Okla., 0. Sentimentality.

Forrest City 14, Mariana 6. Finally, the Mustangs are running.

Helena 20, Brinkley 13. Indians take scalp.

Paragould 7, Newport 6. Great potential on both sides, but frustration, too.

Stuttgart 6, Wynne 0. A weight problem.

West Memphis 14, Memphis Messick 13. Call them speed-o-Benton 20, Mabelvale 0. Benton's always rugged.

Little Rock Catholic 14, Conway 0. The records don't tell all that should be told: Catholic 1-3, Conway 3-1.

Searcy 12, Jacksonville 7. The Red Devils better hone to pass defense.

Russellville 21, Morrilton 6. Even worse, statistically.

Van Buren 14, Sylvan Hills 0. Bet my .762 percentage on it.

Malvern 7, Camden 6. Two lumps.

Colts, Mets to Get Some New Players

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)—The Houston Colts and the New York Mets get a chance today to pick up some new players—but chances are even this won't help them much.

Both teams again finished at the bottom of the National League standings and the eight established clubs agreed to help them by letting them buy some more players.

The Mets and Colts were set up in 1961 through a player draft and today's deal will be similar. Each of the older clubs has listed four players whom the newcomers may buy for $30,000 each.

Yes, but which players? Their names have not been announced, but few are likely to qualify as stars.

One of the men who does know the names — General Manager George Weiss of the Mets — does not seem greatly impressed.

Weiss, who will get first choice of players in a conference telephone call this afternoon, said Wednesday night the draft "might be what you'd expect. It's not going to put us in the first division."

Weiss said he might buy a couple of players—he wouldn't name any possibilities—but added "that's an offhand estimate. I still have some calls to make. I want to get hold of some people who know the physical condition of some of these players. We've had enough of that sort of thing."

Some of the Mets' and Colts' original draftees did not turn out to be too sound of wind and limb.

The way this year's plan will operate, a club can close its list after one of its players has been chosen. But it does not have to, and as many as 32 players may be drafted at the price.

Now, the Class AA games: Fayetteville 14, Springdale 6. A 4-0 record against 3-1-1, and a fine game.

Texas Cagers Could Rank Nationally

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Writer

The round-ballers—basketball to you—start moving back into the bustling sports picture next week.

This time they're going to be quite welcome because all indications are that the Southwest Conference will make a splash nationally.

It seldom has. Usually the intersectional record is terrible and the league's representative to the NCAA tournament gets nowhere.

Various reasons have been given for the ineptitude despite the fact that Texas has as many basketball teams as most any state in the nation. Some of the schoolboys are considered fine college prospects for anybody. But they seldom do much if they stay in Texas to play college basketball.

The last Texas team to do well nationally—and get into the ratings—was Southern Methodist of a half-dozen years ago. But most of its top players were from Missouri.

Last season Texas had a good team. It gave mighty Cincinnati quite a battle in the NCAA. Cincinnati said Texas was the best team it met although Cincinnati lost in the finals to Loyola of Chicago.

Most of that fine team is back. The main loss was Jimmy Gilbert, the playmaker. But returning are John Paul Fultz and Mike Humphrey, who tower 6-8; Joe Fisher, 6-7; Larry Franks, 6-6; Jimmy Puryear, 6-1, and Jimmy Clark, 5-9.

One conference coach said he thought Texas had about the best front line in the nation.

The Longhorns will start out well rated nationally. They play Tulane, Louisiana State, Oklahoma, Wichita and Oklahoma State among intersectional foes and can make a reputation with a good showing against those worthies.

Rice, with a veteran team, should be second best. Or that honor might go to Southern Methodist where Doc Hayes has his tallest quintet yet.

Baylor and Texas Tech look like the most improved teams. Texas A&M should be strong. Texas Christian may not be better but it should be just as good. Only Arkansas appears down in quality. There are only four lettermen.

Baylor has one of the finest prospects of them all in a Houston lad, named Darrell Hardy, who soars 6-7. But Hardy won't be eligible for the varsity until mid term and chances are he will be redshirted. Baylor might not want to waste a half-year.

Practice will start Oct. 15 with first games Nov. 30.

The intersectional schedule is quite attractive, having the likes of Kansas, Kentucky, Oklahoma State, Oklahoma City University, Iowa, Northwestern, Georgia Tech, Auburn, Nebraska, Wichita, Tulsa, UCLA, Vanderbilt, Tennessee, Louisiana State, Tulane, Florida State, Oklahoma, Utah, Missouri, Stanford, Brigham Young and Florida State.

The teams will play in a number of top tournaments over the country and prospects are bright for the Southwest to make a good showing nationally. It might bring as much publicity in volume — favorable this time, however — as the league received two years ago when there were reports of game fixing. It could not be proven sufficiently to get into court, and it died down quickly. There was no reference to it last season and the basketball race drew record crowds.

Ryder Cup Play Starts on Friday

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—Professional golf stars of the United States and Britain clash here Friday in the 15th biennial Ryder Cup series in an atmosphere dominated by the greatest amateur of them all—Bob Jones.

This is Bob Jones' home, and he still is king—not only to his worshipping neighbors but to the present-day giants of the game.

Arnold Palmer is terrific, Julius Boros is an amazing physical specimen at 43 and Peter Alliss of England is one of the all-time stylists. But all of them look to Jones as the emperor.

"Bob Jones is marvelous—an ideal of golfers everywhere," said Alliss. "I am sure he is revered as much in Britain as he is in the United States."

Jones, now 61, confined to a wheel chair by a crippling illness, but still keenly interested in the sport which he helped popularize throughout the world, has attended every dinner honoring the Ryder Cup teams.

When Palmer, captain, sends his U.S. team against the invaders Friday at 8 a.m. in the first of 32 matches covering three days, Jones is almost certain to be in the gallery.

As honorary captain 20 he will follow play in an electric cart or listen to developments from the club house lawn—"by ear," as he puts it, in referring to the cheers and groans of the gallery.

The Ryder Cup competition, won by the United States 11 of 14 times and never lost on American shores, opens with eight foursome matches. These will be followed by eight best-ball matches Saturday and 16 individual contests Sunday.

Picadors, Shoats Clash Tonight

LUBBOCK, Tex. (AP) — The Texas Tech Picadors and the University of Arkansas Shoats clash tonight in a football battle between freshman teams. The Arkansas hold a 3-2 edge in the series.

The Shoats opened their season last Thursday with a 3-0 victory over Southern Methodist's freshmen at Texarkana.

Player of Year Wanted the Pennant
HOUSTON (AP)—Johnny Keane says the only thing that would have made him happier than being named National League Manager of the Year would have been winning the pennant.

The spunky little St. Louis Cardinal skipper was named to the top honor among National League managers Wednesday in The Associated Press poll of sportswriters and sportscasters.

"This is great," said the 51-year-old Keane, a baseball veteran who never played in the major leagues.

"The honor is even more pleasant to me because there are so many good managers in the National League."

Keane polled 53 of 71 votes cast with Walter Alston of the world champion Dodgers getting 15 and Bobby Bragan, of Milwaukee, three.

Keane was a shortstop in the minor leagues and worked his way up to manager jobs in the Cardinal system with stops at Albany, Ga., Houston, Rochester, N.Y., Columbus, Ohio and Omaha.

Keane's team made a bold late season run for the pennant this year before losing three straight to Los Angeles to finish second.

Keane is very optimistic about his Cardinals in the 1964 race.

Belinsky Is First Player Angels Sign

By CHARLES MAHER
Associated Press Sports Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Bo Belinsky, picked by many as the athlete most likely to succeed in getting traded without really trying, turns out to be the first man the Los Angeles Angels have signed for 1964.

Belinsky, in fact, is the first player in the major leagues to come to terms for next season. And nothing could put Bo more hilariously out of character than getting something done early. The only thing he's ever done on time before is buy cars.

Until very recently, Belinsky was just about certain he'd be traded this winter. And if they didn't trade him, he figured, they'd perform so much surgery on his salary he'd be exempted from the federal income tax.

To his stark amazement, he discovered Wednesday that the Angels are dropping neither him nor his wages.

"It's a gas," he said. Belinsky achieved wide public notice last year on two counts. When he pitched a no-hitter against the Baltimore Orioles, he became famous. But when his social engagements kept him from getting home before the morning paper, his employers became furious.

This year Bo pitched no no-hitters and many multiple-hitters. He lost seven of his first eight decisions and was optioned to Hawaii in May. He resisted. The Angels cut off his salary. He reconsidered and reported to Hawaii in July. The Angels recalled him in September.

Next year, he promises, he'll be a most changed man.

Hogs Improved, Coach Thinks
FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Coach Frank Broyles said Wednesday's workout by the University of Arkansas football team showed some improvement on the part of the Razorbacks.

The Porkers are honing up on Baylor's pro-type offense while honing their own.

"We're learning," Broyles said, "and therefore we're reacting better to the varied formations."

Jim John, Wes Bryant and Tommy Moore were named captains.

DeGaulle's Visit Only Agreement

WASHINGTON (AP)—An agreement for French President Charles de Gaulle to visit Washington next year is the only tangible result of two days of talks between Kennedy administration officials and Maurice Couve de Murville, De Gaulle's foreign minister.

Yet both sides appeared to be satisfied when the conferences ended. The emphasis was on clearing away what the State Department called "unnecessary points of misunderstanding."

Couve de Murville said after his last meeting with Secretary of State Dean Rusk that their efforts of clarification were satisfactory.

The Frenchman met with Kennedy for 90 minutes on Monday. He had two conferences, each of about two hours, with Rusk, and another one with Undersecretary of State George W. Ball.

Couve de Murville announced the De Gaulle visit after his call on the White House. He said it will take place "some time next year."

Both French and American officials stressed that contrary to reports in French papers the general might come in February. No date has been mentioned as yet.

Protocol required that De Gaulle return Kennedy's 1961 Paris visit.

Authoritative sources cautioned, however, that the administration does not expect any dramatic changes from a Kennedy-De Gaulle meeting. There is no hope here that the French leader will have a change of heart and change his scheme of things which boils down to this: A France independent of everybody.

Coming and Going

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Duke and family, South Gate, Calif., arrived Monday to visit Mr. and Mrs. Harold Duke and other relatives. They have been joined by Miss Peggy Duke, Monroe, La., on a trip to Fayetteville, Tenn., but will return to Hope next Tuesday.

Paving Deal Is Killed by Hostile Group

EDITOR'S NOTE: The most important news-story in yesterday's Star was the report on Tuesday night's mass meeting to discuss the proposed Hope paving project—but type on the story was garbled. Therefore the story has been reset in correct form and is repeated below. Our apology to the reader for this inconvenience.

Hope's proposed $640,000 paving improvement district, involving $250,000 federal aid and a 20-year mortgage on local property, apparently is a dead duck following its submission Tuesday night to a mass meeting in the city hall which greeted it with complete hostility.

City officials presented the plan to a crowd of 500 which nearly filled the city hall auditorium and said it was up to the citizens to say last night whether they wanted it or not. The answer was definite: Practically all the speakers from the crowd were hostile, were greeted by applause, and at the end the crowd left the hall ignoring the petitions which had been left at the auditorium door for possible signers.

Mayor Frank Douglas and City Attorney James H. Pilkinton told the audience that the paving plan meant nothing to them personally but the time had come to get the people's verdict — and either go ahead or kill the project.

The Figures

City Manager Garland Medders presented the paving district figures with technical questions from the floor being answered by City Engineer John E. Hawkins. Mr. Medders said the estimated overall cost of paving, curb and gutter work is $640,000, of which $250,000 is covered by a federal grant, and $120,000 to be borne out of municipal water & light plant earnings — leaving a balance to be borne by property owners of $270,000 or 40%, on an improvement district mortgage spread over 20 years.

Cost to the property owner was placed at $16 a year for an average 50-foot town lot, with curb and gutter — $8 a year without curb and gutter.

Mr. Medders pointed out that the $250,000 federal grant was given Hope as a city with high unemployment, and it had to be used within a year.

Hill Attacks

The attack upon the paving plan was opened by Frank J. Hill, former Hempstead county sheriff and collector, and now active in real estate and insurance — and from the applause given him it appeared at once that the crowd was against the proposal.

Mr. Hill attacked the improvement district idea as such. He said state law was at fault declaring:

"This plan starts off one-sided. It is unfair because you may have to pay benefits simply because a majority in dollar valuation votes for the district — that is to say, they sign the petition to organize. I am for better paving. I would support a millage tax plan. But I'm against the present plan."

"Today the plan covers Ward One, with federal aid. But how do you know that by the time you get around to improving the other wards there will be any federal aid."

"We used to have a pay-as-you-go plan for paving. On a pay-as-you-go plan we might have the entire city paved in eight or nine years."

Carl Jones asked from the floor: "If your property won't get any benefits will you have to pay an assessment?" The answer from Attorney Pilkinton was "No."

"But can you still sign the petition?" The answer was "Yes."

Attorney Pilkinton pointed out that no vote is provided on an improvement district, but a two-thirds of property valuation has to be represented by signers to the petition — "so if you don't sign the petition you are in effect voting against it."

Others who spoke against the project were: Thomas Fenwick, Jr., Woodrow Parsons, former County Judge U.G. Garrett, and some who could not be identified.

Those speaking in behalf of the measure for the city government, besides the mayor, attorney, and engineer, were: LaGrone Williams, George Frazer, Al Graves, and Dr. Lloyd Guerin, all members of the board of directors.

By WILLIAM MAIRANI

BELLUNO, Italy (AP)—More than 2,000 persons were reported missing today after a mountainous landslide crashed into the reservoir behind Valont Dam during the night.

The landslide sent a mighty flood boiling over the upper reaches of the Piave River in northeast Italy. Four towns with 4,300 residents were virtually wiped out.

Authorities said 300 bodies had been recovered by dawn. Later police reported more than 2,000 missing in the area of normally green cattle pastures, vegetables, fruits and sparkling red wine.

There were conflicting reports about the fate of the 873-foot concrete dam, the world's third highest.

A helicopter pilot who flew over the dam 12 miles north of this alpine city said the structure appeared intact with its reservoir almost empty.

Other reports said the dam had collapsed.

The dam held back waters of the Valont River, a tributary of the Piave. The Piave flows to the Adriatic Sea northeast of Venice.

Police said the flood had swept away a building materials factory with large stores of potassium cyanide, turning the Piave into a stream of poison.

Police warned residents along the river not to drink its waters and not to open any barrels they found afloat or along its banks.

The volume of water released in the disaster was so great that in Belluno the level of the Piave suddenly rose 16 feet, flooding fields and roads.

"We have no idea how many more are dead," Carlo Prestamburgo, vice prefect, said.

He said Longarone, a town of 2,800, had been all but wiped out. Longarone is at the junction of the Valont and the Piave.

The official said three other towns—Cadisago, Rivalta and Pi-rago, with a total population of 1,500—also were wiped out.

Several other towns, including Castellazzo with 1,000 inhabitants, also were flooded. Their fate was not known.

There has been no word from another village on the mountain overlooking the reservoir. Authorities feared it might have been swept away by the landslide. Italian army rescue teams, Red Cross crews and U.S. Air Force planes and helicopters were mobilized into a massive relief army.

"We are not finding many injured," said one official. "People either saved themselves or died."

Belluno hospital reported only five injured were under treatment there.

Autumn rains had loosened a vast earth mass about 630 feet above the reservoir. About 10 days ago the mass started moving down the mountain at a rate of about 16 inches a day.

Engineers figured the mass would reach the reservoir about mid-November. Wednesday they started to empty the artificial lake slowly.

By WILLIAM MAIRANI

BELLUNO, Italy (AP)—A gigantic landslide crashed into the Valont Dam reservoir Wednesday night, and a huge flood all but wiped out four towns with 4,300 residents.

Authorities said 300 bodies had been recovered by dawn and an unknown number of other persons remained buried under rocks, mud and building debris.

It was not certain that the 873-foot concrete dam—the world's third highest—had collapsed under the impact of the millions of tons of water.

A helicopter pilot who flew over the dam on the Valont River 12 miles north of the Alpine city said the dam appeared intact with its reservoir almost empty. Other reports said the dam had collapsed.

Police warned that the flood had swept away a building materials factory with supplies of potassium cyanide, making the Piave River a stream of poison. The Valont flows into the Piave, and the Piave flows into the Adriatic Sea north of Venice.

ed States could benefit from the transaction. He said:

"The sale of 4 million metric tons of wheat, for example, for an estimated $250 million, and additional sums from the use of American shipping, will benefit our balance of payments and gold reserves by that amount and substantially strengthen the economic outlook for those employed in producing, transporting, handling and loading farm products."

However, Hubert H. Humphrey, assistant Senate Democratic leader, who was among congressional leaders briefed by Kennedy before his announcement, said the authorization cleared the way for wheat sales of $350 million to $400 million.

Humphrey said some 4 million tons of grain would go to the Soviet Union, and one million tons to Bulgaria, Hungary, Poland and Czechoslovakia. Some other legisfalse sense of security."

She said those were "im romantic" thoughts but she "may find other solutions afterwards."

In reply to another question, she said her father, Tran Van Chuong, was dismissed as South Vietnamese ambassador to the United States before he could resign.

Mrs. Nhu said the government at Saigon considered at a 2 a.m. meeting a "challenging" cable from her father, from whom she is estranged, and sent him a reply that his mission was finished.

Chuong told a questioner that his daughter's version "is certainly not true."

He said his cable protesting government policy against Buddhists was sent Aug. 8 and he resigned Aug. 22 before he received a cable dismissing him. He added that his departure was called a resignation in the South Vietnamese newspapers of Aug. 23.

Chuong, who has called his daughter "power hungry" and had shunned her since she arrived Monday night, plans a speaking tour of his own in the wake of her coast-to-coast tour.

Chuong is a Buddhist and represents the harsh treatment given the Buddhist majority in South Viet Nam Mrs. Nhu dropped her Buddhist faith and was converted to the Roman Catholicism of the Diem family.

In Mrs. Nhu's speech Wednesday she repeated themes she had stressed in the past. These included a denial that the Diem government has persecuted Buddhists.

When the issue of fire suicides by Buddhists protested the Diem regime was brought up during the question period, she said: "The few misguided men who have burned themselves to death in recent weeks were all victims of incitement."

She said she does not call all Buddhists in South Viet Nam communists, but said some of their leaders are communists.

Denying Buddhist charges of religious discrimination, Mrs. Nhu said: "They have never fought me. I like them. They would never hurt a fly or an insect."

Answering other questions, she said:

"I am here in spite of all the falsehoods and abuses against my country. I strongly believe my country will be reunited (with Communist North Viet Nam) in the not too distant future, because the North knows perfectly well that they are being defeated."

"The foreign correspondents in general who do not like the (South) Vietnamese regime. Because of that, the reports are subjective and unfavorable to us. It is really the president who rules the country. My husband (head of the secret police) is said to rule the country, but it is not true."

Capsule Outside State Capitol

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Mercury spacecraft, Faith 7, was too large to be put in the state Capitol Rotunda and will be publicly shown in Arkansas — Beginning today—in front of the Capitol.

Astronaut Leroy Gordon Cooper orbited the earth 22 times May 15-16 in the 3,000-pound capsule. Capsule supplies will be shown in the rotunda.

An official of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration said Wednesday that the vehicle performed excellently under the stress of 3,000-degree Fahrenheit temperatures during Cooper's descent, but souvenir hunters are becoming more of a problem.

He said that some of the 1,000,000 persons who viewed the capsule at the Oklahoma State Fair departed with a number of screws and bolts from it, despite the fact that the capsule is guarded night and day.

NASA, the official said, has learned to keep space screws and bolts on hand.

Trade Promotion

RUSSELLVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Promotion of retail trade in the Mid-Arkansas River Valley will be discussed next Tuesday at a meeting at Russellville of representatives of Pope, Yell, Johnson, Conway, Franklin and Logan counties. The meeting is an outgrowth of the regional planning commission formed in the area.

Yergers Shaver P.T.A. Meets
The Yergers Shaver P.T.A. held its regular meeting Monday night, October 7, 1963, with President Carmichael presiding.

Mrs. Charissa Yergers conducted the devotion. After the business session, a Buzz session was held for fifteen minutes with the members being divided into two groups. Group leaders were Delton Collins and Lawrence Gamble. The subject was "Does Your child spend enough time doing his home work?" Miss Berta Brittain and Principal Rutherford were reporters. They stated that a maximum of two and one-half hours may be used in preparing the high school assignment. It was suggested that the time be properly budgeted in order to not become boredome. Parents should supervise the home work study period, and urge and motivate good study habits at home.

Remarks were made by Coach Nevels in which he urged the parents to support the football team, win or lose. He reported that Vander Lloyd had entertained the team with a delicious picnic supper.

President Carmichael closed the meeting by reminding the P.T.A. of the District meeting to be held at Yergers High School October 25, beginning at 3 o'clock p.m.

Botulism Serum Now Under Study

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—Medical authorities reported that the last known source in the Western world was being tapped to day for rare type E antitoxin serum, being used to treat nine persons hospitalized in Tennessee with deadly botulism.

This came as doctors at Vanderbilt Hospital tried to save the life of Eric Charles Dalton, 5-year-old son of a physicist at the Marshall Space Flight Center at Huntsville, Ala. The lad was rushed from Huntsville to Nashville Tuesday night in critical condition.

Doctors said young Dalton had what appeared to be a "classical case" of botulism. He was administered an antitoxin and placed in a tank of the polio type to aid his breathing.

Botulism, a rare and acute food poisoning, has been blamed for at least two — and possibly four — deaths in Tennessee and two in Michigan. Seven persons are being treated in Knoxville, Tenn., for the illness and two here, including young Dalton.

A commercial airliner made an unscheduled stop at Knoxville early today to complete the relay of a shipment of type E botulism serum from Toronto. Dr. Robert A. Lash, head of the Knoxville Poison Control Center said this was the last supply of the serum known to exist in the Western hemisphere.

Lash said Tennessee doctors have been promised a shipment of the serum from Copenhagen, Denmark, but he didn't know how much was available there or when it would arrive. He said the Copenhagen supply is now the last known in the Western world.

A shipment of the rare serum was rounded up Tuesday by the National Health Institute in Washington.

Part of the shipment which arrived in Knoxville early today will apparently be rushed here for continued treatment of the Dalton child.

The boy's mother, Mrs. Charles C. Dalton, told doctors he ate some of the smoked whitefish from Michigan which has become the prime suspect in the deaths and illnesses. No other members of the Dalton family were reported ill.

H.J. Dornbos and Bros., Grand Haven, Mich., fish packer which produces smoked whitefish for sale in a sealed plastic bag, ordered all its products removed from distribution.

The plant has halted its own operations pending results of official inquiries in Michigan and Tennessee.

FORMULA FOR RECIPROCAL LOVE

By Helen Worden Erskine

Dear Helen: You printed a letter from a girl who wanted to release the boy she loved to her best friend. You advised her to go after him on the chance that his infatuation for the other girl might be only a passing fancy.

I would like to know how a girl goes after the boy she loves and still acts in good taste. How does she prove that she's the right one? Another thing, if a boy tries to let her know he cares without saying it in so many words, can she truly believe in his love?

My "boy" is a 36-year-old man who was married before. It was a teen romance and he only lived with the girl briefly. Although they had children, he says he will never go back to her, yet never mentions marriage to me. I have dated many other men but love only this one. If I don't marry him, I shall never marry. —M.

Dear M.: The only way a girl can "prove" she's the right girl for the boy she loves, is by being herself and having enough faith in herself and in her boy friend to trust his good judgment. Love automatically causes us to put our best foot forward, but if the distance forward is too great we may fall flat on our face.

In other words, I don't believe in misrepresentation of any kind, whether it applies to an advertised product or to a female try-

Progressives in Nova Scotia Win

HALIFAX, N.S. (AP)—The Progressive Conservatives won their third consecutive victory in Nova Scotia provincial elections Tuesday under Prime Minister Robert Lorne Stanfield.

The nation's leading opposition party increased its strength in the Nova Scotia Legislature from 27 to 39 seats, while the Liberals dropped from 15 to 4. The New Democratic party also lost its only seat.

THE REASON

FOR THESE UNUSUALLY LOW PRICES!

During the last several months, we have enjoyed a most successful business. Doing the volume of business we did, naturally we accumulated hundreds of odds and ends and FLOOD SAMPLES! These Odds and Ends take up lots of valuable floor space. Merchandise bought at the recent Furniture Market is arriving daily . . . AND NO PLACE TO PUT IT! . . . so we feel it is a good business to clean house . . . dump odds and ends and floor samples regardless of loss! Also, we have one of the largest inventories in our history and need to reduce inventory . . . So the orders were given . . . rip, cut and slash prices right and left on EVERYTHING . . . get rid of the old stock . . . make way for the NEW! . . . It's Our Loss, but we don't mind if we get the job done. Prices so low, we cannot afford to run this sale but nine (9) short hours! Many items actually FAR BELOW COST! DON'T DARE MISS IT!

Think You've Got Trouble? Read This

By ANNA MARIE RAY

Bismarck, N.D. Tribune Staff Writer

STERLING, N.D. (AP)—"You know they're going to go, but still it hits you hard when they do."

Mrs. William Patterson was talking about two of her children—Richard, 9, and Betty Ann, 6. They are bright, handsome youngsters. But the chances are they will not live much longer.

Richard and Betty Ann are victims of muco viscidosis, sometimes called cystic fibrosis. It's insurable despite all the efforts of medical science.

The Pattersons, who live on a farm eight miles northeast of this little town in southern North Dakota, know quite a lot about muco viscidosis.

The same disease already has taken the lives of three Patterson children. Virginia died a year ago at the age of 7, Judy died eight years ago when she was nearly 4 and Donna Mae died 17 years ago at only 2 months.

Two others in the family—Le Roy, 12, and William Jr., 15, have slight touches of the dread sickness but evidently are not seriously afflicted.

There has been no sign of it in the other three Patterson children—twins Donald and David, and Janice, 16.

Doctors say muco viscidosis is congenital and is passed on by parents. Glands of the lungs and pancreas produce abnormal amounts of thick mucus, clogging the vital organs and leading to infection.

Both Richard and Betty Ann are familiar figures at St. Alexius Hospital in nearby Bismarck, where they take oxygen twice a week and are confined for frequent bouts of pneumonia.

Cold weather is dangerous for the youngsters, so they take their school lessons at home and stay in the house most of the winter. The family is not well off, and the state welfare department has helped them with expenses.

But the Pattersons are not ones for complaining.

"We're so thankful that the disease does not affect the children's minds and that our other children have been very healthy," said Mrs. Patterson.

And Richard, at least, knows what is coming.

"Yup," he chirped, "I'm living on borrowed time."

Can't Get in to See the Quints

By GEORGE MOSES

Associated Press Staff Writer

ABERDEEN, S.D. (AP)—Some three weeks after the Fischer quintuplets were born, a sun-burned farmer hailed an acquaintance in Aberdeen:

"Say, where's St. Luke's Hospital? Think I'll go over and see the quints."

He was back in no time, surprised on his weathered features.

"They won't let you in," he complained.

Natives of this South Dakota prairie city could have saved him the trouble.

They know the four girls and a boy, growing stronger daily, are off limits. They have adopted a live-and-let-live policy toward Andy and Mary Ann Fischer, the quints' parents. The Fischers operate in a strange semi-isolation while they nurse out their

Cool Range-Top Baking

WHO SAYS you have to heat up the kitchen every time you want to bake a cake?

Try this colorful and easy range-top version of a perennial favorite—Perfection Pineapple Upside Down Cake. With the right kind of utensil—a heavy-gauge aluminum skillet or Dutch oven with tight-fitting cover—you can bake on top of the range without bothering to fire up the oven.

Here's why:

Aluminum conducts heat quickly and evenly. On low heat, a covered aluminum pan becomes a range-top oven, cooking from bottom, top and sides. So forget about using your aluminum skillet only for frying. Bake in it too. It's a quick and easy way to use convenient new cake mixes to turn out a gourmet dessert your family will love.

PINEAPPLE PERFECTION UPSIDE-DOWN CAKE

4 tablespoons butter or margarine
¾ cup brown sugar
6 pineapple slices, drained maraschino cherries
walnuts
1 package cake mix

Melt butter in a 10-inch thick aluminum skillet. Gradually add brown sugar and blend. Remove from heat and arrange pineapple, cherries and walnuts in an attractive pattern. Prepare cake mix according to directions and pour slowly over fruit. Cover and place over low heat for about 45 minutes or until cake is done. Run a spatula around sides of cake, cover with a plate and invert skillet. If desired, serve with whipped cream. Serves 10 to 12.

Weather Can Still Affect Business

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Weather still can affect the course of business and public and individual economic and political systems.

It can set the price of many things from food to clothing to shelter even the price of gold.

Weather can weaken governments or parties along with specific corporations or enterprises. It can change long-held government policies, although its effects may show up more quickly on commodity markets and sometimes stock exchanges.

Any merchant can tell you how fair days or foul can affect his sales on any one day—or how temperature and precipitation variations can make or break any one season for him.

The Communist nations have been taking their licks from the weather to the accompaniment of dramatic headlines—wheat shortages in Russia, hurricane damage in Cuba. But weather also has been setting economic courses in non-Communist countries. Many of the patterns are pleasant this year. Some are not.

Coffee merchants are saying prices may rise this winter. The reason: Brazil's crop has been badly hit by drought and frost, and also by forest fires blazed on the drought.

The price of sugar may be tied to the skirts of Hurricane Flora, even if the United States no longer gets any of its sugar from Cuba. The reason: Russia has been either consuming or acting as middleman for Cuba's sugar crop. Flora is reported to have damaged it heavily, adding to the already admitted damage caused by the shortcomings of the Com-

Excitement Over About New Shows

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The heady excitement of television's opening season is over. It's going to be business as usual from here on in.

After four or five days of Soul and show-searching, ABC finally has decided on the Sunday night replacement for the deceased "100 Grand." It is called "Laughs for Sale" and will consist of routines and sketches written by "as yet had wheat weather in Russia.

It also may be giving Russia still another headache. Gold producers estimate that Soviet mining is relatively expensive, that it actually costs Russia $70 an ounce to produce the metal it's selling. That spell of bad weather may be crippling the Communist economy in more ways than one.

Macmillan's Illness Poses Big Problem

By ARTHUR GAVSHON

Associated Press Staff Writer
BLACKPOOL, England (AP)—Impressions hardened among Conservative party leaders today that Harold Macmillan, stricken by illness, soon will have to step down as prime minister of Great Britain.

The annual conference of the ruling Tories opened formally in an atmosphere of shock and confusion at the development. There was a sense of unreality about the party's debates on national educational and health because the issue of leadership was the only one preoccupying the 4,000 assembled delegates.

Elder statesmen, managers and Cabinet ministers who form the party hierarchy faced a stark choice between soldiering on leaderless for the next two or three months in the expectation that undiscovered comedy writers" and performed by professional comedians.

Another panel show, it will have its premiere on Oct. 20 with Hal March, late of "The $64,000 Question" as host.

CBS, after making an enormous fuss about its full live coverage of last week's testimony by Joseph Valachi before the Senate subcommittee, quietly dropped the whole thing Tuesday except for a half-hour roundup which preempted a late afternoon re-run of "Love That Bob."

CBS last week let it be known that the Valachi hearings had cost it about a quarter of a million dollars daily—and that it got a lot of complaints from housewives about omitting their favorite games and soap operas.

While the spotlight was focused on new evening show, a couple of daytime offerings have established themselves in the NBC daytime schedule.

Merv Griffin, whose departure from last season's daytime scene was accompanied by noisy mourning, has returned with something called "Word for Word." Basis is the familiar old parlor game in which players make as many words as possible from the letters in, for example, "gardenia." All gussied up with a garden set, competing players, prizes and supervision, it proved extremely dull to watch.

No better—perhaps even a bit more boring—is "Missing Links" which has the usual celebrity panel trying to guess with forced enthusiasm the missing words in a story read by a studio participant. Ed McMahon, the busy commercial reader on Johnny Carson's nighttime program, is the jolly host on this time-killer.

Simplicity in hair styles for fall starts with a versatile cut (left). The young girl chooses to set her hair so there is a slight curl to the ends. In an impish mood (right) she tries a double pony tail—one on each side. The bunches are held with rubber bands which are hidden by twirling a strand of hair around each. As an added gamin touch, she teases a bunch of hair at the crown and swirls it into a casual top-knot.

Boosting Your Image Is Important

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—"Image—that's my lecture for today," said Clyde Mack, the cynical flack.

The unemployed press agent was making another unwelcome visit to my desk. "Look, I've got a deadline," I insisted.

"Take Elizabeth Taylor," he prodded.

With no warning, the 69-year-old prime minister was taken to a London hospital Tuesday night for removal of a prostate obstruction to his bladder. His doctor said he probably would be operated on Thursday and he would not be fully active "for at least two or three months."

The immediate reaction in political circles was that Macmillan, after fending off demands for his resignation produced by the Profumo scandal, must at last surrender the party's reins.

But some observers thought he might recover and still lead the Conservatives in the crucial election battle with the opposition Labor party.

Deputy Foreign Minister Edward Heath told newsmen no decision on the leadership question would be made until the outcome of the operation on Macmillan was known.

said. I contemplated the notion.

"Heaven knows her image hasn't been the greatest," Mack said, "what with playing musical husbands, and all. The smartest thing she could have done was that tour of London on television."

"How so," I foolishly asked.

"Everybody loves a tour director. Did they throw stones at Burton Holmes and James A. FitzPatrick? Not on your life. When the sun dipped into the west and we had to say a fond farewell to Sarawak, everyone felt warm all over. Now consider Miss Taylor's husband."

"Which one?"

"Eddie Fisher, of course. His image got a big boost when he sang the national anthem at the World Series last Sunday. You've got to like a guy who sings 'Oh say can you see' at the World Series—unless you're a Yankee fan, maybe."

"Okay, you've made your point."

"I'm not finished. Another case in point: Frank Sinatra."

"What about Frank Sinatra?"

"He got in trouble because he allegedly put up Sam Giancana, the Chicago mobster, at his Lake Tahoe inn. So a few days later Sinatra is announced as executive assistant to Jack Warner at Warner Brothers. That will help improve his image."

"How do you figure?"

"An actor as Warner's assistant? He's bound to get the sympathy vote."

"They gotta learn about image-making in television, though," Mack continued. "Like the Judy Garland Show. They keep letting

French Put Atom Bombs on Planes

By RICHARD K. O'MALLEY

PARIS (AP)—Atomic bombs are being distributed to units of the French air force for use in supersonic Mirage IV bombers now rolling off assembly lines, it was learned authoritatively today.

These sources, whose identity cannot be disclosed, said that phase one of France's nuclear program had achieved "a concrete beginning."

Phase one was described as the production of the Mirage IV bombers equipped with atomic bombs.

The sources would not disclose how many Mirage IV bombers are operational but presumably enough were on hand for the change in French defensive policy.

Following a Cabinet meeting today, Information Minister Alain Peyrefitte discussed evacuation of the former French base at Bizerte, Tunisia.

He said that "modern weapons" now being put at the disposal of the French armed forces permitted such evacuation without compromising the defensive capability of France in the Mediterranean basin.

It was obvious that he was referring to the new atomic capability of France.

Mirage IV bombers, whose capabilities are a secret, were especially designed to carry atomic bombs.

A communique issued after a meeting of President Charles de Gaulle's Cabinet spoke of "the creation of new means which the armed forces are beginning to have at their disposal."

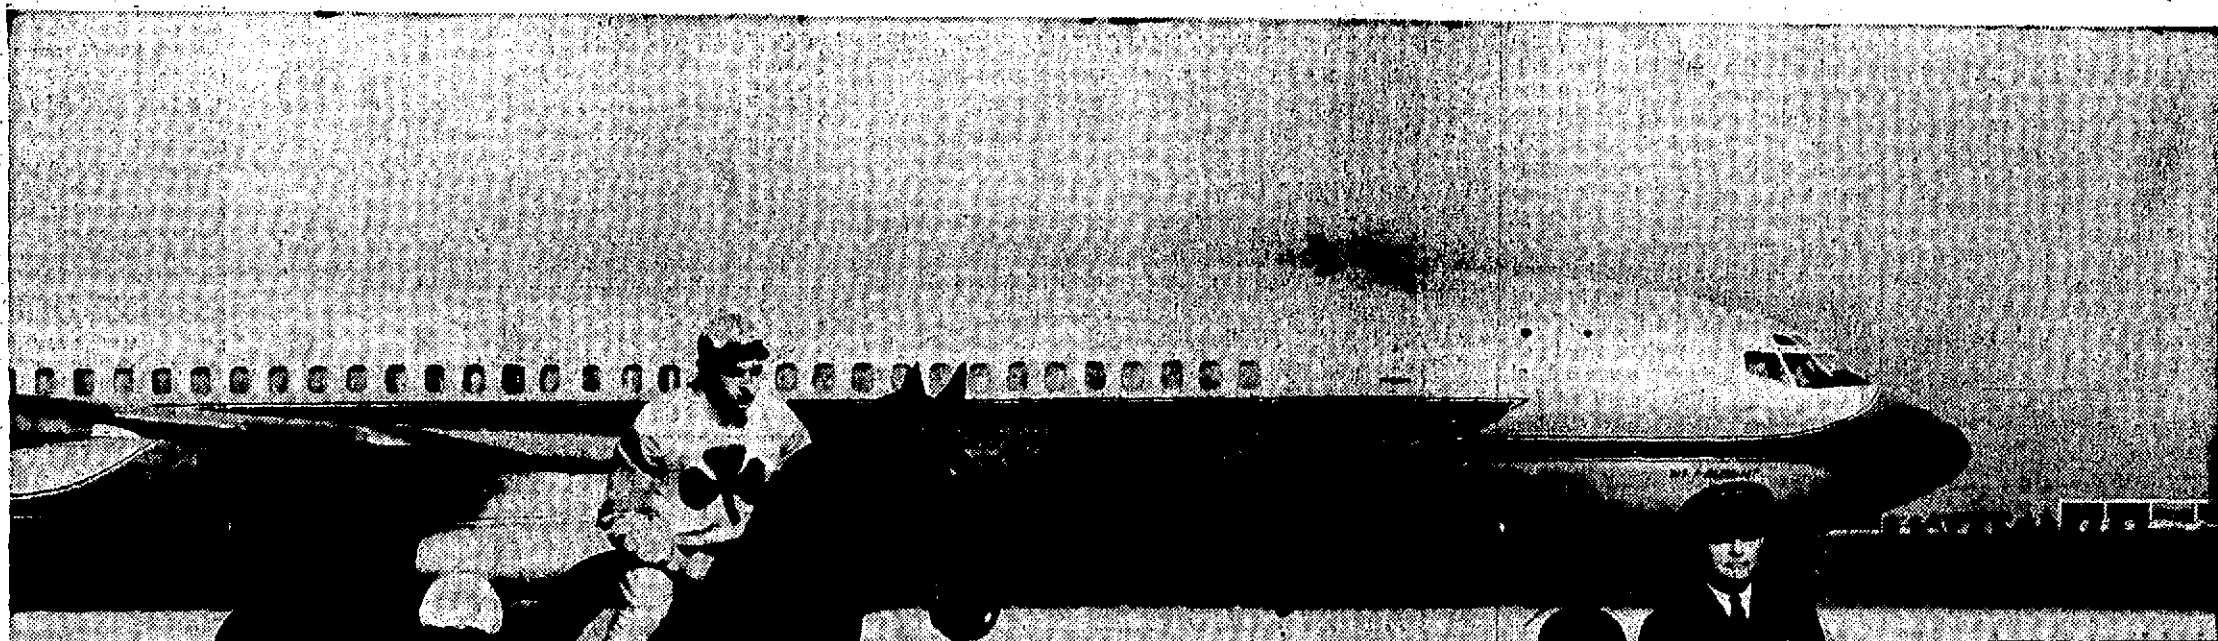

The subject was mentioned in connection with France's decision to vacate last troops from Bizerte this month.

French officials said last April that France will begin assembly line production of atomic bombs and Mirage IV supersonic planes to carry them in September or October. Until today, there has been no indication that this has actually begun.

$600 Billion Economy by Next Year

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON (AP)—The government's top economist predicted today that the national economy will hit the $600 billion level for the first time early next year—and bring more benefits to consumers.

The forecast came from Dr. Walter W. Heller, chairman of President Kennedy's Council of Economic Advisers in connection with the submission of the first report to Kennedy of the Consumer Advisory Council.

The consumer council, among other things, recommended "immediate and positive action" to bar racial discrimination against customers of hotels, stores, theaters, restaurants and other businesses. It said a longer tax cut may be required for small tax payers. It called for truth in packaging and lending.

Kennedy created the consumer council in July of last year under the chairmanship of Dr. Helen G. Canover, dean of home economics at Cornell University, to give consumers a stronger voice in government in an advisory capacity.

Since the council was set up under the wing of the Council of Economic Advisers, Heller was asked about improvement of the consumer's position. He said that of course it was improved.

"There is more safety in drugs," he said. "In a TV set you are more sure of getting what you pay for. The advisory agency makes 22 (government) agencies aware of the consumer for the first time."

Heller said, too, that "as the economy improves the consumer improves."

That brought a question as to the state of the economy. Heller replied that in the next quarter year it should reach a rate of $600 billion a year—the value of all goods and services produced. This means a $100 billion increase since Kennedy took office, he said.

Fellow economists regarded this as a decidedly optimistic view of economic conditions as they may be expected to unfold over the next few months.

The forecast for the present quarter is that national production should hit an annual rate of $592 billion to $594 billion before the year runs out. Heller's figure displays confidence that the economy will keep climbing at a healthy rate and that the outlook is good. It also indicates a confidence that the administration's proposed $11 billion tax cut, already approved by the House, will also clear the Senate in due course.

Reinstated, Resigns

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Acting Police Chief R. E. Brians and Asst. Chief William H. Maack took Little Rock Civil Service Commission examinations Tuesday for the position of police chief. They later must take oral interviews. Little Rock has had no police chief since Aug. 16 when Chief R. E. Glascock was dismissed. He later was reinstated so he could resign.

Albert Pike administered the oath of office to Governor James S. Conway in 1836, on the Old State House.

Arkansas has most of the bauxite in the United States.

High Pressure Ridge Remains

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A high pressure ridge remained anchored over the eastern portion of the country today, maintaining hot, dry weather in Arkansas.

Record temperatures were recorded around the state Tuesday, including a 96 degree reading at Little Rock. The possibility of another record loomed today.

The state's rainfall for the year to date is only 21.18 inches, which is 17.20 inches below normal.

Overnight low temperatures were generally in the 50s, but ranged from a low of 61 at Texarkana to a 41 at Gilbert.

The forecast calls for fair with warm days and cool nights through Thursday with a high to 84 to 94 and low tonight of 46 to 58.

The five-day outlook is for temperatures from two to six degrees above normal with little or no rainfall expected.

The high pressure ridge is maintaining ideal harvest weather, but making the state a tinderbox fire hazard.

Mythical Conservation at Pentagon

James Marlow is on vacation. In his absence, his column, is being written by other Washington and New York staffers.

By JIM BECKER

WASHINGTON (AP)—Mythical conservation at the Pentagon: General: The President says we've got to send 100 tough combat men to Viet Nam right away.

Colonel: Affirmative. I'll get in motion whodunnit.

General: Not so fast. The secretary wants to know how much it will cost.

Colonel: Our computer is not operational, but throwing my hat figuratively, I'd say to get 100 men with combat capability into the Congress was going to deny him most of the emergency powers he asked for.

High Pressure Ridge Remains

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP)—President Romulo Betancourt blamed Fidel Castro Monday night for the increase in anti-government violence in Venezuela that has cost at least 20 lives in the past week.

In a nationwide broadcast, Betancourt appealed for public support of the police and military campaign to crush the terrorists.

Betancourt said Communists and fellow travelers are waging the campaign of terrorism to lock Venezuela's national elections scheduled for Dec. 1 but he said control of the government is even more firmly in his hands than when he assumed office four years ago.

There was no abatement in the terrorism that has promoted the government to move paratroopers and other military units into Caracas. Three more persons died in street battles Monday night.

Elsewhere in Latin America: —The new military regime in Honduras set up machine guns in the central plaza of Tegucigalpa, the capital, after it received reports of plans for anti-government demonstrations by students. A junta headed by Col. Oswaldo Lopez Arvelo ousted the elected government of President Ramon Villeda Morales last Thursday.

—In the dominican republic, where the elected government was also deposed in a coup, the military government ordered a state of siege after university students battled police in Santo Domingo, the capital. The students attempted to march on the presidential palace to protest the ouster of President Juan D. Bosch. Police fired machine guns hurled tear gas and the students retaliated with stones. About 50 students were arrested.

—In Brazil, a dispute between workers and guards at a big steel mill resulted in the death of six workmen when police fired on them. The outbreak occurred at Acesitas, 200 miles north of Rio de Janeiro. President Goulart meanwhile withdrew his request to Congress for a 30-day state of siege to keep order. He said extreme measures were no longer necessary, but most observers believed he backed down because proximity of opposing forces would cost about $3 billion.

General: Three billion dollars! How do you figure that? And speak English. That jargon is OK for Senate hearings, but the only thing you said that I understood was $3 billion.

Colonel: It's simple, sir. The 100 men will need supplies, food, doctors, dental work, snack bars and a headquarters unit. The French fried potatoes alone are a big item. Somebody has to keep the records. And somebody has to keep the records of the unit that keeps the records.

General: How many men will you need for those jobs?

Colonel: Let's see. Cooks, clerks, doctors, dentists, say about 500. With that many men in the area we'll have to set up a military mission. That means civilian secretaries, and lots of young officers to date the girls. They get lonely out in a place like that. They'll need several hundred staff cars to drive them around. I'd better order a motor pool battalion right away. And I'll need about 200 PX clerks. We can't expect our people to live off the land.

General: No, of course not. But 200 PX clerks seems like a lot just to handle cigarettes, tooth paste, things like that.

Colonel: Oh, we'll have to lay in a big supply of groceries, meals, refrigerators, bubble gum, comic books, garden swings, lawn seed, baby food—

General: Baby food? I want 100 combat men. They'll be eating C rations. What's this about baby food?

Colonel: It's for the dependents. Our mission might be over there for years. We'll have to send the families of the headquarters men. I'll call the President Lines and order up four or five passenger ships.

General: Four or five ships?

Colonel: We'll need that many because of the rotation. We'll move the families in and out every six months. We've got to carry the furniture, and the school teachers and supplies.

General: We need schools, eh?

Colonel: I would say that four or five primary schools and a combination junior-senior high ought to handle it. We can build them out of the pre-fab material left over from the housing units. We'll also need playground equipment, basketballs, baseballs, tennis rackets and a few thousand sets of golf clubs. We can build a golf course if they don't have one there.

General: I suppose you want to build a new airfield?

Colonel: No need to have that item in our budget, sir. The Air Force always builds one. I suspect they will chip in a few wings so we can make daily flights to Hong Kong to buy suits and things. Or we could rent Pan American Airways for a few years, but that might cost a little more.

General: Economy is the keynote, colonel. Did you forget anything?

Colonel: Just that we should take a long lease on all the movie theaters in the area, plus a few thousand houses. Oh, and one big mansion.

General: I can understand the theaters and houses, but why the mansion?

Colonel: Well sir, with an installation of that size we will need

Repassage Can Await Legislature

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Repassage of truck weight legislation can wait until the regular legislative session in 1965 if the courts throw out a law enacted in 1963, state Sen. Merle Peterson of Dumas said today.

Peterson, working with the Highway Department and trucking interests, drew up the bill which became a law raising truck weight limits from 64,000 to 73,200 pounds.

The law has been attacked in the courts on the grounds that it contains an illegal provision exempting trucks hauling oil field equipment from a prohibition a very high ranking man to command it, and he will need a big fancy house. There would be another star in it for the man who takes over.

General: Ah, how many sand traps are you going to have on that golf course?

against carrying more than 12,000 pounds on the front axle.

This provision was not in the legislation proposed by Peterson but was written into the law with his approval after oil field interests told lawmakers that the weight law would work a hardship on them when they attempt to move certain equipment on the highways.

"It seemed all right to me at the time," Peterson said. "The oil field people weren't using the highways much, and they did have a problem."

The truck weight law is vulnerable because it has no severability clause stating that the body of the act shall stand even if one section may be held unconstitutional.

Because of this oversight, the entire act will fall if the courts hold that the one section on oil field equipment is illegal.

"It is a pity that some of these truckers who have spent $25,000 and more on new equipment under the new law may be penalized on a technicality," Peterson said. But he said he does not believe the emergency is enough to warrant a special legislative session.

Latins Blame Castro for Violence

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP)—President Romulo Betancourt blamed Fidel Castro Monday night for the increase in anti-government violence in Venezuela that has cost at least 20 lives in the past week.

In a nationwide broadcast, Betancourt appealed for public support of the police and military campaign to crush the terrorists.

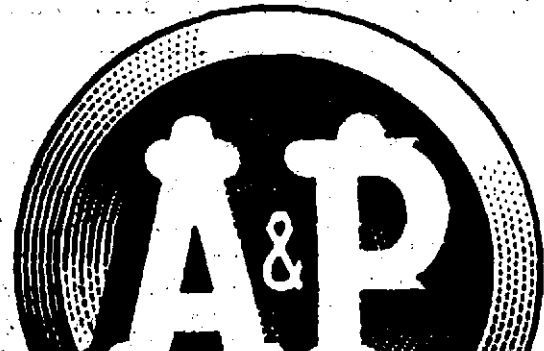

Betancourt said Communists and fellow travelers are waging the campaign of terrorism to lock Venezuela's national elections scheduled for Dec. 1 but he said control of the government is even more firmly in his hands than when he assumed office four years ago.

There was no abatement in the terrorism that has promoted the government to move paratroopers and other military units into Caracas. Three more persons died in street battles Monday night.

Elsewhere in Latin America: —The new military regime in Honduras set up machine guns in the central plaza of Tegucigalpa, the capital, after it received reports of plans for anti-government demonstrations by students. A junta headed by Col. Oswaldo Lopez Arvelo ousted the elected government of President Ramon Villeda Morales last Thursday.

—In the dominican republic, where the elected government was also deposed in a coup, the military government ordered a state of siege after university students battled police in Santo Domingo, the capital. The students attempted to march on the presidential palace to protest the ouster of President Juan D. Bosch. Police fired machine guns hurled tear gas and the students retaliated with stones. About 50 students were arrested.

—In Brazil, a dispute between workers and guards at a big steel mill resulted in the death of six workmen when police fired on them. The outbreak occurred at Acesitas, 200 miles north of Rio de Janeiro. President Goulart meanwhile withdrew his request to Congress for a 30-day state of siege to keep order. He said extreme measures were no longer necessary, but most observers believed he backed down because

A New Recipe For An Old Favorite

PEANUT BUTTER AND JELLY SANDWICH—as old as the hills but still as popular as ever—is even more delicious when a homemade jam is used. In this "no-cook" recipe Bartlett pears are merely chopped and then easily combined with sugar, lemon juice and liquid fruit pectin for a fully flavored jam that never loses its freshness. Store it in the freezer for many happy situations such as the one pictured here.

PEAR JAM

3 cups prepared fruit (about 3 lbs. ripe Bartlett pears)
6 1/2 cups (2 lbs. 14 oz.) sugar
1/4 cup lemon juice (2 or 3 lemons)
1 bottle liquid fruit pectin

Peel and core about 3 pounds fully ripe pears. Finely chop the fruit and measure 3 cups into a large bowl or pan. Measure sugar, add to fruit, mix well, and let stand. Mix lemon juice and fruit pectin in small bowl. Stir into fruit mixture. Continue stirring about 3 minutes. (There will be a few remaining sugar crystals.) Ladle quickly into glasses. Cover jam at once with tight lids. Let jam stand until set (this may take up to 24 hours), then store in freezer. If jam will be used within 2 or 3 weeks, it may be stored in the refrigerator. Makes about 8 medium (8 oz.) glasses.

Wants Gops to Settle Differences

EDITOR'S NOTE — How does former President Dwight D. Eisenhower size up various facets of the political picture with an election year in the offing?

Jack Bell, Associated Press political writer, and Marvin L. Arrowsmith, who covered the White House for the AP during the eight years Eisenhower was president, interviewed him and here is the story.

By JACK BELL

MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP)—Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower wants Republicans to battle out policy differences publicly at the 1964 convention—and then pick a presidential candidate best representing majority views proclaimed in a terse party platform.

In an interview with The Associated Press, Eisenhower said he would "like to see a good lively fight" among delegates on the GOP's course. In this way "you could have the feeling of consensus of Republican thought" in the choice of presidential and vice presidential nominees.

Eisenhower, who wants this sort of wide-open policy debate on the convention floor, met with AP reporters in his office on the Gettysburg College campus. Here are other points he made in a far-ranging discussion of political matters:

—He believes he may have been mistaken in interpretation of some of the views of Sen. Barry Goldwater, particularly on repeal of the graduated income tax. But Eisenhower also still believes that before the Arizona senator "can be considered a truly serious candidate, he has to do his best to make his views clear"—in presidential primaries and otherwise—on such matters as foreign policy, medical care for the aged, fiscal responsibility, the farm problem and civil rights.

—He has "kept very still in expressing a personal preference" for the presidential nomination because "I have no intention of trying to be a kingmaker." But he thinks three or four men he declined to name are more highly qualified than others to be president.

—Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon has told him he was removing himself absolutely from the 1964 presidential nomination contest. "But," says Eisenhower, "I suppose that if suddenly there was a wave of support that threw him again into the race, there would be no question about his capacity to perform the job."

Question: Mr. President, you had quite a bit of experience in the field. What kind of a president do you think Kennedy is making?

Gen. Eisenhower: One thing I have always avoided is dealing in personalities. But I will say that in almost every domestic program I see what I consider is a degree of carelessness in our budgetary affairs, so that there are few domestic programs, that he has advanced, that I could agree with

Vote Trend Continues

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The trend toward a record number of qualified voters in Arkansas for next year continued unbroken today.

Ten more counties reported poll tax figures to the state auditor's office, and each had issued more receipts than in 1960, when a record 603,795 voters qualified.

The 10 counties brought the total number reporting to 32. They have issued 230,401 poll tax receipts, 18,320 more than in 1960. Most of the larger counties remain to be heard from.

Counties reporting today, with the 1960 figures in parentheses, were:

Baxter 5,080, (4,810), Cleburne 4,007 (3,339), Craighead 15,320 (14,410), Cross 5,259 (5,190), Izard 3,512 (2,900), Lonoke 8,792 (8,452), Monroe 5,009 (4,808), Randolph 4,776 (4,575), Saline 10,563 (9,593), White 13,163 (12,761).

Greers Ferry Only Needs Rain Now

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

If rains will fill up Greers Ferry Reservoir Arkansas' newest state park, Choctaw, will be ready for visitors.

The 120-acre park was constructed by Army Engineers who were responsible for developing recreation areas around the lake.

Engineers built fireplaces, picnic tables, rest rooms, a boat launching ramp and drilled a well before turning the area over to the state.

Bryan Stearns, director of parks for the state Publicity and Parks Commission, said the state plans to construct a camping area and a boat dock for rental boats. In addition, the park will have swimming and other regular park facilities, Stearns said.

Choctaw is located on state Highway 330, three miles from U.S. Highway 65. It was named for the town of Choctaw which was located nearby until moved out of the reservoir area.

Stearns says he thinks the park is at the finest location on the lake, adding, "It's the only area with direct access to a U.S. Highway."

The only thing delaying use of the park now is low water in the reservoir which is in the process wholly.

Q. The other day you wrote that you are unclear on precisely what are Sen. Goldwater's present views. You called on him and other Republican presidential possibilities to state their views clearly. On what particular issues are you unclear about Goldwater? Do they include, for example, civil rights?

A. I don't know exactly what he has said about civil rights, but I think he has probably taken a moderate course. I believe he must believe, like all of us, in progress in this field. As a matter of fact, I believe in just as fast progress as we can make, but it must not be so impulsive as to be destructive.

SECOND GENERATION—Robert Walker, left, son of Jennifer Jones and the late Robert Walker, is caught in a scene with Larry Hagman, son of Mary Martin, in a new film, "Ensign Pulver." Walker and Hagman are typical of a wave of stars' offspring invading Hollywood.

SHIP-SHAPED—Block-square quadrangle topped with a 14-story funnel-shaped building gives the eerie impression of a ship. She "sails" the Constitution Plaza urban renewal section of Hartford, Conn., and the building will house home offices of a large insurance company.

Barcello stepped out and closed the door on his conversation with the chief. Blake stiffened to his feet and stood staring at Todd. He kept a grip on his anger and held his voice down to a tone too low for Barcello to overhear.

"Now tell me again you never met George Gibbon?"

"As a matter of fact," Todd answered easily, "I haven't."

"Just what was Val getting for the money she paid him?"

"I have no idea."

Barcello was coming back. They stood tightly still, looking at him as he held the door open, a smile in his dark eyes.

"I'm leaving now. The case is already clearing up. At least we can forget the piracy bit. Our skin divers have brought up the silverware and the chronometer and the compass. The emerald ring is still missing, but the bay bottom is smooth and hard and they did manage to find the wrist watch. In other words, those things weren't stolen at all. They were simply chucked overboard as a cover-up."

Then he was gone. Blake turned back to Todd, still tight-nerved. Todd was frowning over the failure of his trickery, but already resigned to it. He shrugged.

"It was a mistake. I should have dropped that stuff into the catboat and dumped it far away in the bay. Still, it was worth a try."

"It wasn't worth lying to me about, I doubted it from the first. You wouldn't forget $3,000. You brought the money back. You still have it."

"It's still a loan. I need it for other reasons now. I'll pay you as soon as I can." As Blake began to speak, Todd stopped him with a gesture. "Hold it, kid—hold the questions. They won't get you any answers. I've already told you everything I want you to know—in fact, more. For your own sake let it go and pull your nose back out of it."

Blake felt himself caught inside a vacuum; his restlessness was becoming unbearable. What could he do?

Gibbon . . . and Val's unexplained association with him. It had existed, in spite of Blake's early doubts; but what had it to do with Todd?

Todd had denied all knowledge of it; and no matter whether this was false, he had flatly refused to answer any more questions. Gibbon knew, of course — Gibbon and perhaps nobody else — but Gibbon was missing.

Blake looked into the telephone of filling. At present water is 10 to 15 feet below normal level. "A couple of good rains should fix that," Stearns said.

directory. He found a listing under the name of Gibbon, George. He made a note of the Gulfport address.

A highway winding past a golf course led him into Gulfport, a smaller city separated from St. Petersburg only by boundary signs. He had in his pocket the note he had made of George Gibbon's address, but he didn't refer to it; he remembered it. He guided himself as best he could by the street markers on the intersections. Numbered streets were irregularly followed by named streets, making his destination hard to find. He turned and turned again in a quiet neighborhood of small residences. Finally, after another turn, he pulled his car aside, switched off the headlights and the motor. This street was very narrow, unpaved, with sandy paths for sidewalks, arched over by the foliage of pines and palms. Sitting in his car, his eyes adjusting, Blake looked along its dark length.

Somewhere in this block was the home from which George Gibbon had vanished three weeks ago. As a lead to Gibbon it was a long shot; Blake was taking it up simply because no other existed. Probably it was hopeless. Barcello had said on his first visit to Blake's office: "Gibbon packed up and left in the middle of the night, while his mother was asleep, and she hasn't seen him since." Still, there was a possibility that Mrs. Gibbon had withheld information from the detective — that in addition to the money he had sent, he had told her his whereabouts.

Blake got out of his car and stood beside it, looking into the shadows under the trees. Barcello had also said this morning: "We haven't enough manpower for an organized hunt"; but that had been before he had heard about Gibbon's visit to Val's home following her death. Previously Gibbon had been comparatively unimportant, but now Barcello wanted him as a factor in a major case. The ticklish question in Blake's mind was whether Barcello had asked the local police to case the Gibbon home.

There were trees and shrubbery where a watcher might be stationed unseen. Blake went along the path, his pace casual, his eyes alert. In front of every dwelling an aluminum mailbox stood on a post, most of them bearing a house number and the name of the occupant. Three quarters of the way along the block he saw the name Gibbon.

Resignation of Baker Under Probe

By JOHN CHADWICK

WASHINGTON (AP)—The FBI has launched an investigation into the business affairs of Robert G. Baker, 36, who resigned his $18,600-a-year post as secretary to the Democratic majority in the Senate.

A Justice Department source disclosed the investigation shortly before Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield announced Baker's resignation Monday.

The inquiry apparently began with allegations in a $200,000 civil damage suit that Baker used his office to help win contracts with a government defense subcontractor of an automatic vending machine company with which he had financial dealings.

A former Senate page who came here from Pickens, S.C., Baker was named secretary of the majority eight years ago when Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson was Senate majority leader. He reportedly was a Johnson protégé.

Baker's wife is also on the government payroll, serving as records manager for the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee at $11,600 a year.

There was no immediate comment from Baker.

Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota, who sat in at the meeting after which Baker's resignation was announced, said the Democratic majority, who had chosen him, did not request his resignation.

Francis R. Valeo, 47, administrative assistant to the majority leader, was assigned by Mansfield to take over Baker's duties. Valeo will serve as acting secretary to the majority pending action by the conference of Democratic senators.

Baker's business dealings came to light Sept. 9 in a law suit filed in U.S. District Court by Capitol Vending Inc. against Serv-U Corp., a vending firm with which the Bakers had financial dealings, and against Baker and other defendants.

The suit alleged that Baker "as secretary of the Senate majority was able to and did represent" that he was in a position to assist in securing contracts for the North American Aviation Corp.

Further, it alleged that Baker received $5,000 for securing a vending machine franchise at Melpar, Inc., a North American subcontractor. Melpar's principal plants are in the Washington area.

When the suit was filed, Baker denied that any influence was involved in behalf of Serv-U.

The Bakers hold $200,000 in promissory notes from Serv-U. Serv-U started operations 18 months ago and has an estimated $3.5 million in sales at five California aerospace plants doing government defense work.

Homemakers Shout The Praises Of Condensed Soups

Since its introduction in 1897 condensed soup has won hearts of many, many homemakers. We like it . . . and depend on it for a quick meal at lunch, hearty and sustaining part with a salad or sandwich as a palate-stimulating dinner, appetizer, we love . . . and it's praised . . . as a cooking aid.

Take tomato soup alone . . . of the over 30 kinds available, its robust flavor and color, plus its tantalizing range make it an ideal sauce, convenient ingredient item innumerable dishes. Used from the can it's perfect in consistency, thus saving us a head start in recipe preparation. A magic key that opens the door to wonderful soups, skillet dishes and casseroles, canned condensed tomato soup likewise turns favorites like beef into mouth-watering soups like this:

Meatballs Con Chili

- 1 can (10 1/2 ounces) condensed tomato soup
- 1 teaspoon chili powder
- 1 pound ground beef
- 2 tablespoons fine dry bread crumbs
- 2 tablespoons minced onion
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 egg, slightly beaten
- 2 tablespoons shortening
- 1 small clove garlic, minced
- 1/2 cup water

Mix 1/2 cup soup and half the chili powder with beef, crumbs, onion, salt, and egg. Shape into balls about 1-inch in diameter. In skillet, brown meatballs in shortening along with garlic, and remaining chili powder. Stir in remaining soup and water. Cover; cook over low heat about 20 minutes, stirring now and then. Makes 4 servings.

This "south-of-the-border" meatball recipe is just one of 14 exciting ways to use hamburger and one of the over 140 tempting tomato soup ideas featured in a brand new "soupier" cookbook just off the press.

For five and a different soup labels this book can be yours.

Oversupply of Wheat in America

By OVID A. MARTIN
Associated Press Farm Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The possible sale of 100 to 125 million tons of wheat to the grain-short Soviet bloc would barely make a dent in the bountiful American supply.

At a time when wheat shortages are appearing in many countries, the U.S. government owns enough wheat to feed Americans more than two years.

This is in addition to this year's crop which also is sufficient to meet domestic food needs for an additional two years.

Although this feeding capability is based on the assumption that no wheat would be exported, there is no need to restrict exports.

Present American supplies are ample to meet anticipated domestic and export demands for at least 18 months, probably 20 months. In the meantime, another crop—next year's—will be grown and harvested.

The plentiful American supply situation is in sharp contrast to that of the Soviet Union and some of its satellites. Because of poor crops and less skill in production than possessed by American farmers, the Soviets have found it necessary to turn to Canada, Australia and Western Europe—and now possibly the United States—for supplementary wheat.

Saturday, diplomatic sources reported Hungary has told the United States it is ready to buy 800,000 tons—about 30 million bushels—of American grain.

Other informants said Cargill, Inc., of Minneapolis, one of the big American grain processors and shippers, has already requested an export license from the Commerce Department.

It was also reported that the Czech and Bulgarian embassies in Washington have expressed interest in buying about $60 million of American grain.

Last Friday the State Department said there have been approaches from the governments of the three Communist countries for the purchase of American wheat.

The government owns what is popularly referred to as a big wheat surplus—supplies produced in past years and turned over to the Agriculture Department under farm price supports. This quantity is 1,026,000,000 bushels as of Aug. 31.

Farm officials object to the tagging of its wheat as surplus grain. They say it should more accurately be described as a reserve and surplus supply. They say it is in the public interest to maintain a reserve of at least 400 million bushels to protect against crop failure or other national emergencies.

The government's stocks have been supplemented by this year's crop of 1,134,000,000 bushels. The bulk of this grain is owned by producers, grain merchants and

Slayer Gets a Life Sentence

DUNCAN, Okla. (AP) — James Richard Ellis, 24, of Van Buren, Ark. was formally sentenced to life in prison Monday for the murder of Kelsie Beauchamp Jr., prominent Duncan attorney.

Ellis was convicted in a jury trial Sept. 28. He had pleaded guilty to the charges earlier but the Oklahoma Court of Criminal Appeals threw out the plea on grounds that he was not properly represented by counsel.

Dale Radley, of Fort Smith, Ark., also charged in Beauchamp's death, also pleaded guilty but did not appeal. Beauchamp was slain in the driveway of his home in February of 1962.

A plea for a new trial by Ellis' attorney, Sam Sullivan, was denied by District Judge L. A. Wood who pronounced sentence.

warehousemen. Some already has been consumed and some exported.

Americans consume about 500 million bushels a year and use about 135 million annually for livestock feed and seed. They have been exporting more than 600 million bushels annually in recent years.

As prospects appear now, this year's crop will not be adequate to meet domestic and export requirements. Before the Soviets appeared as possible buyers, it was calculated that at least 150 million bushels would have to be taken from the government stocks before the 1964 crop starts moving to harvest next spring.

Striking U.A. Workers Restrained

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Chancellor Thomas Butt issued a temporary restraining order Tuesday night against non-teaching employees of the University of Arkansas who have been on strike since last Friday.

Butt found that the defendants had been engaged in illegal picketing.

Listed among the reasons for the injunction were mass picketing, repeated trespasses, picketing in attempts to induce breaches of contract, property damage and interference with proper use of university property during picketing.

The order was directed against Arthur Whaley, field representative of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees (AFSCME), organizer John Hale, Local 965 of the union and all others associated with and acting in concert against the university.

No date was set for a hearing on whether to make the injunction permanent. Some 75 employees went on strike last Friday, demanding better working conditions and higher pay.

University President David W. Mullins said the school lacks the legal right to bargain with the employees.

Big Fines Could Slow Bootleggers

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Federal Judge Gordon E. Young said at Little Rock Tuesday that heavy fines levied for transportation of illegal liquor may stop white bootleggers from "taking advantage of Negroes."

Young made the remark as he fined James Edward Johnson, 23, a Negro of Pine Bluff $250 for transporting 18 gallons of untaxed whisky June 10.

Young said Jackson pleaded guilty and said he was working for a white man when he hauled the liquor in Jefferson County.

"The man that is making the money is not here," Young said. "He takes advantage of these Negroes."

Young said bootleggers hire young Negroes with no criminal record and "tell them if they get caught they'll be put on probation and nothing will happen to them."

Mormons Act to Protect Records

An AP Special Report
By DON LEFEURE

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (AP) — High on a canyon wall about 20 miles southeast of here, a series of portals jut from the granite rock, pinpointing the location of one of the world's most impenetrable storage vaults.

It is there that the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints (Mormon) has gouged a maze of under-rock caverns designed to safeguard the millions of dollars worth of its genealogical records.

Called the Little Cottonwood Project—after the canyon where it is located—the network of tunnels and vaults cost the church more than $1.5 million.

The tunnels include three 600-foot-long storage vaults which have been lined with 1½ feet of concrete and heavy corrugated steel. Three large bank vault doors have been installed for added security. The three main passages will be intersected by three others more than 400 feet long.

Destined for storage in the vaults at controlled temperatures and humidity are more than 500 million microfilm pages of genealogical records.

The church places considerable weight on the eternal nature of the family relationship. If a Mormon fully obeys the teachings of his faith, he may enter into a marriage covenant that not only lasts until "death do us part," but continues on "for time and eternity."

Mormon doctrine states that members' ancestors who died before the religion was revealed in the early 1800s may be baptized by proxy as the first step in their acceptance into the faith. But the living must gather the necessary vital statistics concerning their kin. Thus, the emphasis on genealogical research and record keeping.

In recent years, the church's record-gathering chore has been facilitated through a cooperating program with thousands of archivists and priests in foreign countries. The Mormons maintain a number of microfilming teams abroad and in the United States. These teams, where permitted, search records or any lead that could uncover information births, marriages, or deaths. The records are microfilmed and the film shipped to Salt Lake City.

Because of the zeal of thousands of dedicated church workers the church genealogical library now includes more than 1,700,000 microfilm volumes. More than 500,000,000 pages have been microfilmed.

People in the News Over World

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

ABERDEEN, S.D. (AP) — The Fischer quintuplets are on the bottle—all of them.

Mary Ann, the oldest and smallest at birth, got her first bottle feeding Sunday. Like her three sisters and her brother, she had been fed through a tube into her stomach.

Attendants at the Aberdeen (S.D.) hospital said Mary Ann appeared to enjoy the formula. She weighed 3 pounds, 4 ounces at the latest weight check, compared to 4 pounds, 13 ounces for brother James Andrew. He's the heaviest of the quintuplets.

When the quintuplets reach about 5½ pounds, they'll be sent home to the parents.

OSLO, Norway (AP) — Fifteen poems written on toilet tissue in a Gestapo jail were presented to their author in Oslo.

"It's a sad night," said poet Arnulf Overland as he looked at the faded writing.

The poems were smuggled out of the Oslo jail by a warden for delivery to the Norwegian resistance movement. But the contact man was hard pressed by German police and hid the poems in an office. They were found there recently.

Overland was jailed early in the 1940-45 occupation of Norway because of his opposition to Hitler.

HONOLULU (AP) — Postmaster General John A. Gronowski, speaking to the National Association of Postmasters in Honolulu, told them about the Hawaii Legend of the Goddess of Fire.

The goddess appeared as either a beautiful woman or an old hard-some young men. If rejected, she caused volcanic eruptions.

"I am greatly relieved," said Gronowski, "that I have not seen one unattractive woman here today. I think we are safe from volcanic eruptions."

As he spoke, a crater on Kilauea volcano on the island of Hawaii erupted.

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — A. B. (Happy) Chandler, former governor of Kentucky, U.S. senator and commissioner of baseball, is in a hospital at Lexington for a check-up. A spokesman for the hospital said Chandler, 65, probably would be released in a day or two.

Asks Dismissal of NAACP Suit

FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP) — The Fort Smith School Board asked U.S. District Court Tuesday to dismiss a suit filed by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People challenging its voluntary grade-a-year desegregation plan.

In an answer to the suit, which was filed Sept. 12, the board said departure from the grade-a-year plan would hurt the scholastic program and would be detrimental to the interests of both white and Negro students.

No hearing has been set on the suit. It was filed by NAACP attorneys for a Negro mother on behalf of her two teen-aged daughters, and it asks that the girls be moved from all-Negro Lincoln High School to all-white Northside High School.

The board noted that the voluntary plan, begun in September 1957, had reached the seventh grade and said that in five more years full and complete integration would be attained.

The board's reply asks that the suit be dismissed because it "fails to state facts sufficient to constitute a claim."

Drop Biscuits Quick For Family Meals

Try some simple Drop Biscuits for an easy change from standard bread and butter service at family meals. You can prepare and bake them in a few short minutes when you use convenient enriched self-rising flour and the drop biscuits method of preparation.

Enriched self-rising flour, the grandma of all convenience mixes, contains two of the basic ingredients needed for biscuits — leavening and salt. This means you need only two additional ingredients, shortening and milk, to make these tender quick breads.

Self-rising flour and self-rising corn meal, enriched with B-vitamins, calcium and iron, are two convenience products you'll especially appreciate now. Autumn's cool weather makes it easier for you to turn on the oven and bake your family's favorites. There'll be lots of good, now! Biscuit/muffin recipes featured now, as well. Watch for them to add to your recipe file.

DROP BISCUITS
3 cups sifted enriched self-rising flour
1 cup shortening
1 cup milk
Measure flour into bowl. Cut or rub in shortening until mixture is crumbly. Add milk and stir until flour is well moistened. Drop by spoonfuls onto ungreased baking sheet. Bake in hot oven (450°F.) 10 to 12 minutes. Makes 12 biscuits.
